INDIAN HARBOR CLUB GAY

Commodore William H. Childs won the opening race of the Indian Harbor Yacht Club yesterday afternoon with the Joyetta and his smaller sloop Hiuheehee finished second in the one design class. It was the opening day of the club end the burgee was mastheaded and saluted by the yachts present, after which the regatta committee sent the racers away. There was a very light southwest wind at the start and a short course was selected. Later the wind backed to southeast. Then it went to northwest and died out, but strength-ened just enough to let the yachts get The Joyetta led at the start and held her position until the last leg of the race. Then Commodore Childs had to leave his boat, as a reception had been arranged on his steam yacht Joyance. With him off the Margaret, having a full crew, was able to pull by the Joyetta, but Skipper Mallory later made the mistake of holding in too close to the land and the Joyetta, getting a bet-ter wind further off shore, again went to the front and won by 1 minute 28 becomes.

In the one design class there were three starters and the Yaqui, owned by William Busk and Frank Page, won by minute 5 seconds from the Hiuheehee.

During Commodore Childs's reception on his flagship launches were kept busy carrying visitors from the shore. After dinner there was a dance in the club house. The summary: SLOOPS-CLASS R-START, 2:40.

The annual regatta of the Harlem Yacht Club will also be sailed to-morrow on the Sound and the yachts will start from a line made to the northward and eastward of Execution Rock and sail over triangular courses. There will be a large fleet of yachts in this regatta and many of the regular racing craft which were unable to reach the starting line yesterday will take part.

At other clubs on the Sound there will be opening coremonies with music and dancing and the indications are that a busy season is ahead and yachting this year will be as popular as ever.

On the lower bay the opening of the Atlantic Yacht Club will be the feature event. The fleet by order of Commodore Blackton, will anchor off the club house in the morning and at noon when the club burgee is run up on the Lipton staff every yacht will salute. The yachts will dress ship. Official calls will be made by the captains on the flag officers and in the afternoon Commodore Blackton will hold a reception on board his flagship Arrow. There will be music in the clubhouse and in the evening there will be dancing. The racing season on the lower bay will open next Saturday with a regatta for the usual classes managed by the Atlantic Yacht Club. Just how large this floet will be is somewhat indefinite just now. Many of the lower bay yachts are in commission, and as three new clubs have been admitted to the association it is expected that there will be several more yachts in the handicap classes. The Jamaica Bay yachtsmen also have intimated that they would like to race on Gravesend Hay, so it is possible that there will be quite a boom in the lower bay sport.

On the Sound the annual regatta of three will be sailed. The fleet, it is said, will gather in New London harbor on August 2 and probably will go to the eastward, passing through the Cape Cod Canal. These,
